

Why folks drive out here

For about thirty years we've been filling eight acres of Las Cruces with the things that make a Southwest home: seasoned firewood, stone in every color, pottery by the thousands, and lumber you can't find anywhere else.

Firewood

New Mexico piñon, locally cut pecan, and easy-lighting cedar — plus apple chunks and mini logs for the smoker. Guaranteed full cords, NMDA-regulated measure.

Flagstone & Stone

Around 30 varieties — Arizona buff, Colorado red, Idaho quartzite, oversize select slabs — plus river rock and Coronado stone veneer. Buy one piece or a whole pallet.

Pottery

Over 30,000 pots on the yard: hand-painted Talavera, glazed beehive-kiln pottery built for any climate, and statement jars for the entryway.

Cedar Stays

South Texas cedar — #1 stays (5–5.5 ft) and long stays in 8 and 10 ft — the classic build for coyote fences that last. Take a bundle or pick your own from the stack.

Lumber & Ties

The hard-to-find yard: used railroad ties, ponderosa vigas, latillas for coyote fences and shade, and carved braided posts.

Yard Decor

Metal cacti to cement turtles — statuary, benches, gazing balls, fountains, and hand-made metal blooms. The selection changes every week, so come walk the rows.
